Jim Morris - Cultural Calling Cards

The cultural awareness game

COACHING | TEAMS

We live and breathe our culture. It defines a large part of who we are. It shapes our values and beliefs. We are our culture. It is our CALLING CARD.

This is a game designed for multicultural groups. The cards can be used for three different variations of the game. Fun, interactive and guaranteed to deliver insights and discussion, in is the ideal icebreaker and work form for new or existing multicultural groups or teams. The idea is to learn about each other's culture by sharing information about your own culture and asking others about their culture. Nobody scores any points and nobody wins or loses. The only winner is cultural awareness itself.
